CASE STUDY

A veterinarian arrived to work on Monday morning to find significant damage to her practice as a result of a break-in. The offenders had gained access via the back door of the premises and vandalized the practice, damaging the surgery fit out and equipment. The client was able to claim under their business policy for the clean-up costs, replacement equipment and repair to the practice fit out, however the clinic was unable to trade for a week while this took place.

An assessment of the income for the week of lost trade equated to $17,000 - the client was able to claim the full $17,000 loss of income back under the business interruption section of their business policy.
